

Miss Eleanor Langley putting Oh Girl over the bars in the hunters and jumpers class at the Mineola Horse Show. Carl Klein.

A group of dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States at the annual meeting in the Catholic University at Washington. Left to right, front row: Archbishops Hanna of San Francisco and Curley of Baltimore, Cardinal O'Connell of Boston and Archbishop Glennen of St. Louis. Rear row: Archbishops Moeller of Cincinnati, Daeger of Santa Fe, Shaw of New Orleans and Mundelein of Chicago. Harris & Ewing.

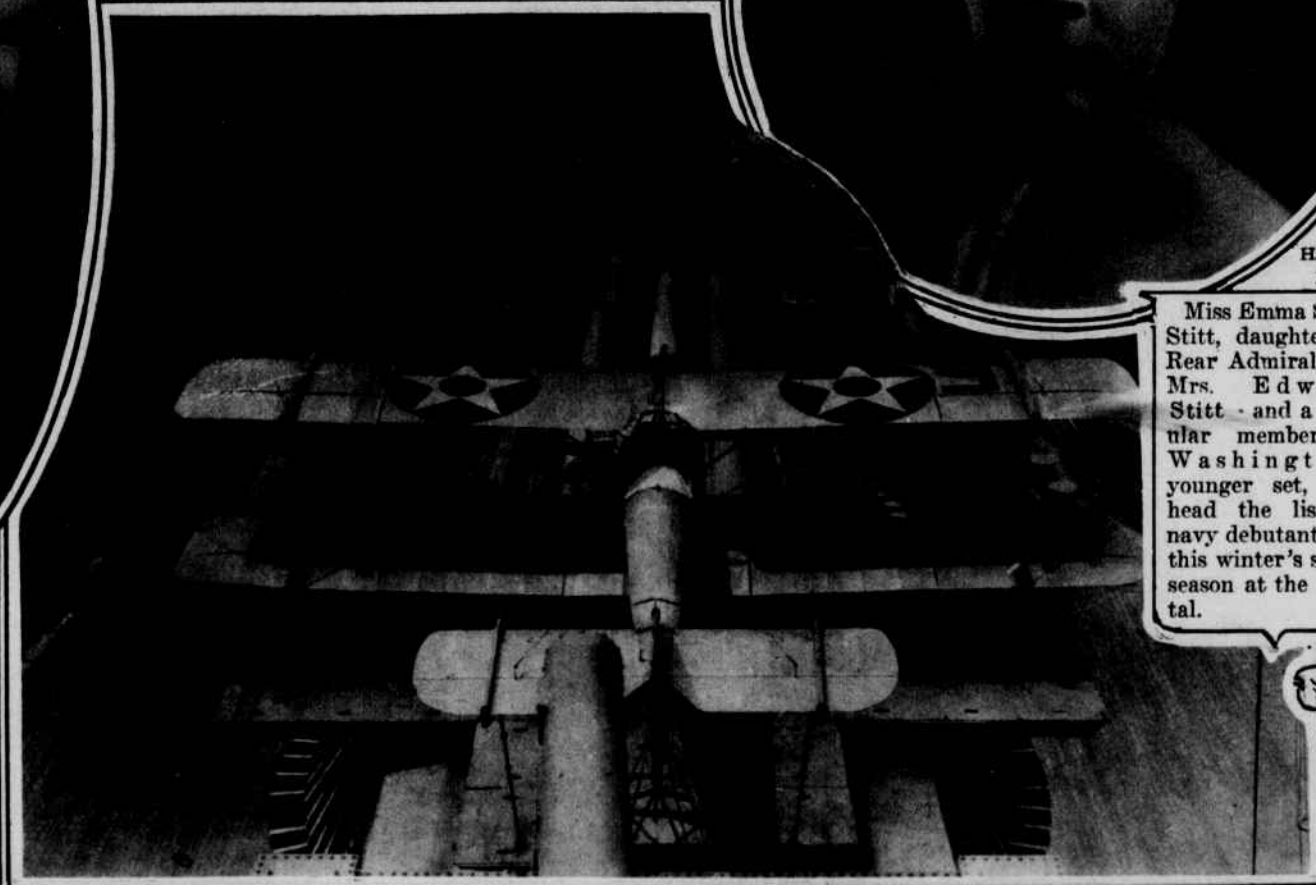

Miss Camelia Sabie, world's champion woman hurdler and all around athlete, gets her pleasure in breaking records on the track. Here she is in her serious side, laboring with a class of youngsters in a Newark grammar school. Pacific and Atlantic.

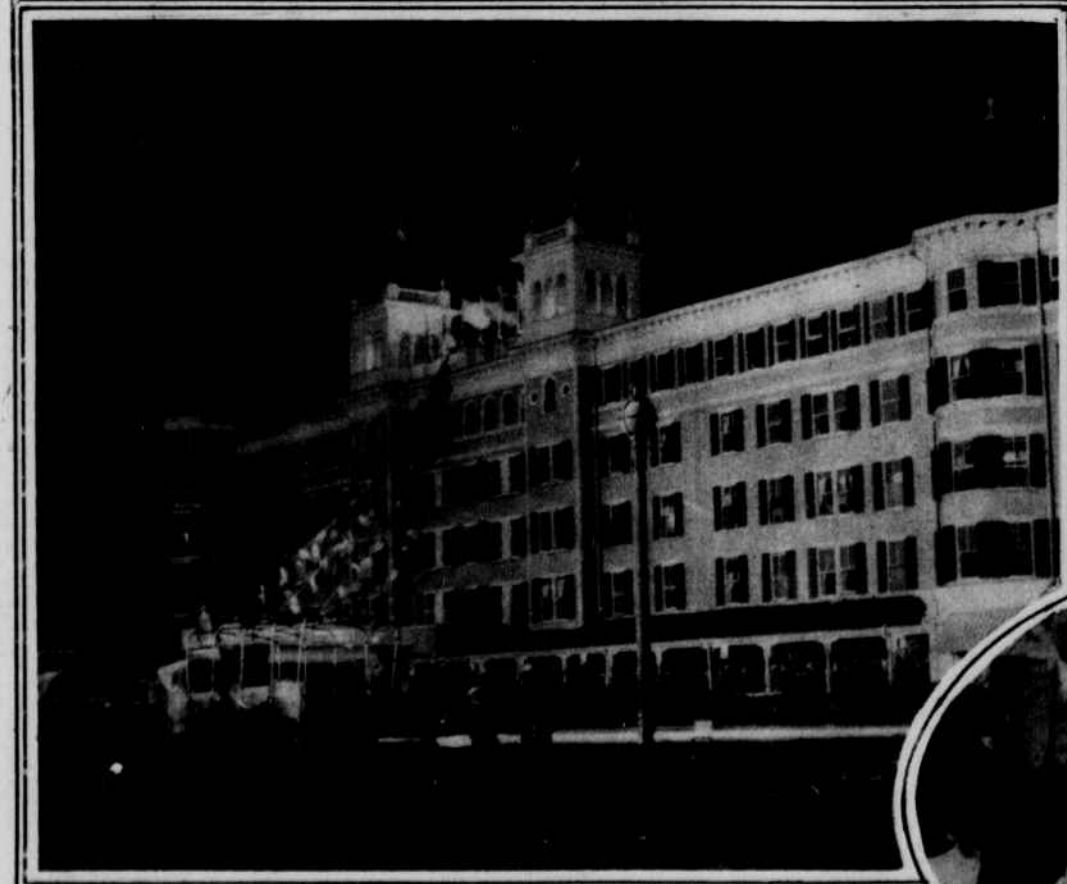

Above—Little Jimmy Rigby had a lot of fun in addition to capturing one of the prizes at the baby show in connection with Mineola's annual fair. Keystone.

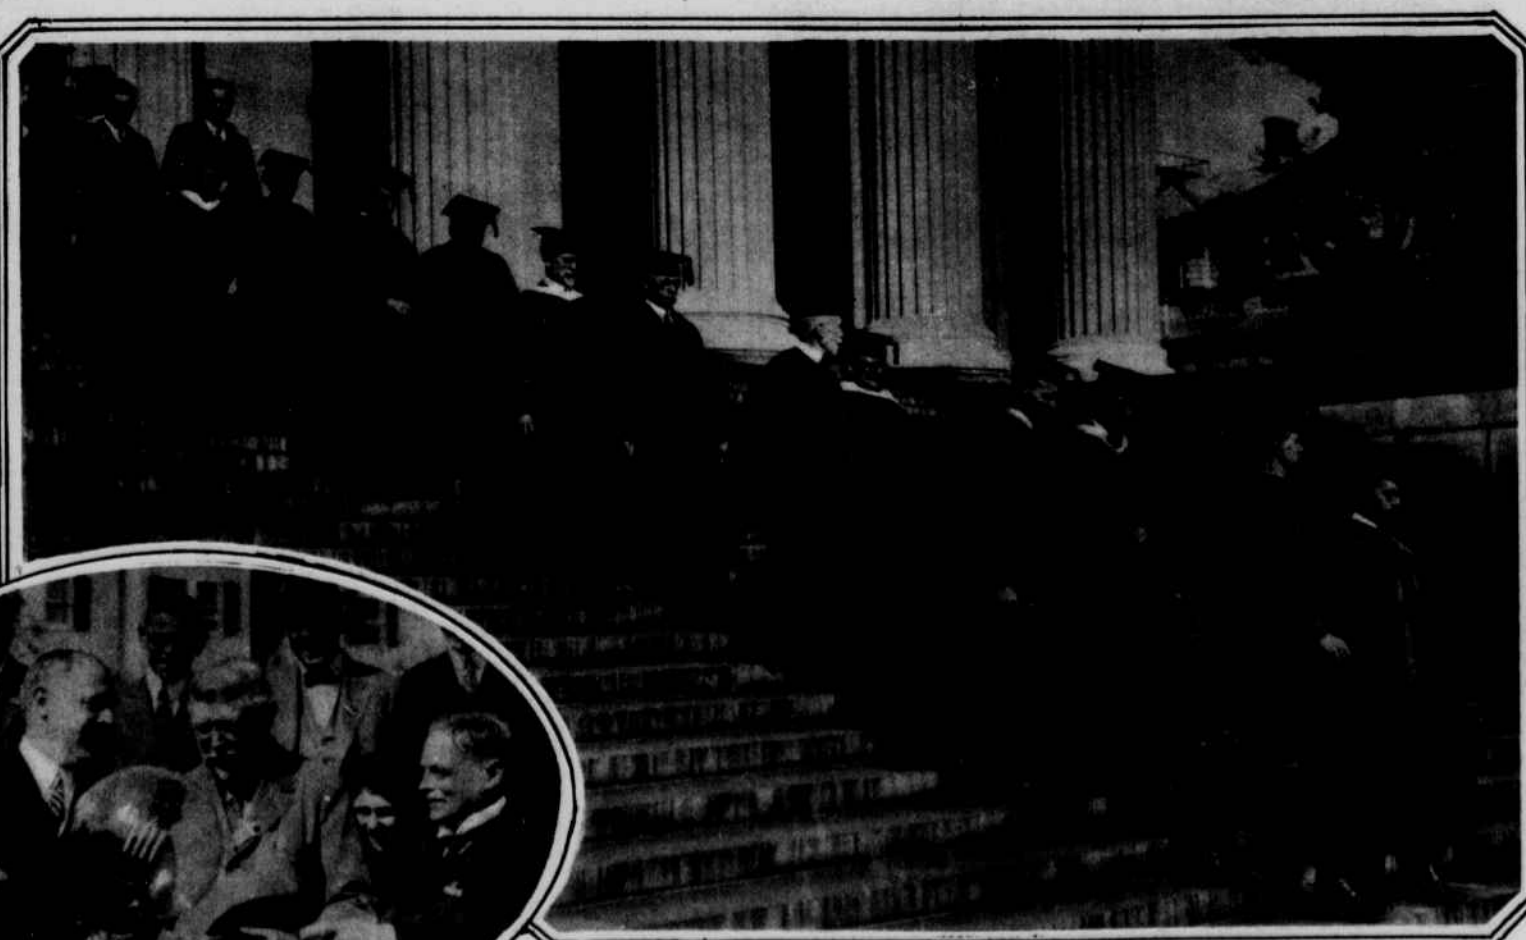

Miss Emma Scott Stitt, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Edward Stitt - and a popular member of Washington's younger set, will head the list of navy debutantes in this winter's social season at the capital. Harris & Ewing.

With a scout plane as part of her equipment—the deck of the U. S. S. Nevada, showing the platform over the 14 inch guns to accommodate the aerial observer. Kadel & Herbert.

The new 30,000 watt electric bulb, largest in the world, just perfected by the General Electric Company, provided the only light necessary to make the above photo of the New Ocean House at Swampscott, Mass., in a recent test. The photo on the right shows Dr. George S. Crampton showing the bulb itself to Charles L. Edgar, president of the Boston Edison Company, and Dr. Elihu Thompson of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Keystone.

Columbia University starts its 169th academic year. Photo shows the procession of the faculty from the library before the opening ceremonies. Paul Thompson.